Stronger Together: Humanity at the heart of palliative care

20–23 April 2027
Adelaide Convention Centre

APHC27OPCC will be held in Adelaide (Tarntayna) in South Australia, on the lands of the Kaurna People.

Palliative Care Australia is located in Canberra. We acknowledge the traditional custodians of the surrounding land and waters the Ngunnawal and Ngambri Peoples and pay our respects to Elders past and present. We honour and value their continuing culture and the contribution they make to the life of this city and this region.

Introduction

APHC27OPCC is where the region will build the future of palliative care, together.

In April 2027, the Oceanic Palliative Care Conference and the Asia Pacific Hospice Palliative Care Conference will unite for the first time since 2009. Around 2,000 delegates will gather for four days of learning, connection and collaboration.

Under the theme: Stronger Together: Humanity at the heart of palliative care, the conference will focus on what matters most: dignity, compassion and personhood, backed by practical solutions that work in real systems. It is a rare platform to connect with the people shaping care across the region, position your organisation as a trusted partner, and contribute to how people and families experience serious illness and end of life.

For international organisations, APHC27OPCC offers a rare gateway into diverse Asia Pacific health systems through a single, high-trust platform.

The conference connects global partners with senior decision-makers navigating policy reform, service expansion and workforce development across both mature and rapidly developing markets.

It creates opportunities to build relationships, test ideas, share solutions and support adoption in real-world settings, while contributing to care models that are culturally grounded, scalable and sustainable across the region.

A message from the Chairs

At Palliative Care Australia and Asia Pacific Hospice Palliative Care Network, we believe that strong, respectful partnerships are essential to improving care for people living with serious illness and those who support them.

APHCC27OPCC represents an important moment for our region a chance to come together, listen, learn and lead collectively. The conversations we have, and the relationships we build, will help shape how palliative care continues to evolve across diverse communities and health systems.

We warmly invite you to be part of this shared endeavour. We welcome conversations with organisations who are committed to dignity, compassion and equity in care, and who wish to contribute in meaningful and responsible ways.

We look forward to connecting with you.

PCA Chair

A/Prof Ghauri Aggarwal
APHN Chair

The Partnership

The partnership between the Asia Pacific Hospice Network and Palliative Care Australia combines regional leadership with proven delivery expertise to create a conference of real impact.

APHN brings trusted connections across the Asia Pacific region, amplifying diverse voices and shared priorities in palliative care. Palliative Care Australia contributes strong governance, financial stewardship and a track record of delivering high-quality, large-scale conferences with lasting legacy.

Together with, APHN and PCA, with the support of PCSA, APHC 2027 is inclusive, well-executed and grounded in practice – strengthening collaboration, supporting equitable participation and advancing palliative care across the region.

Asia Pacific Hospice Palliative Care Network (APHN)

The Asia Pacific Hospice Palliative Care Network (APHN) is dedicated to advancing hospice and palliative care across Asia and the Pacific. Our purpose is to empower and support organisations and individuals working to relieve suffering for people living with life-limiting illness.

APHN works to strengthen palliative care through education and skills development, increased awareness and communication, and by fostering research and collaboration across the region. We place particular emphasis on supporting less experienced and more isolated colleagues, encouraging the establishment of sustainable programmes that build local capacity.

APHN was registered as a charity under the Charities Act (Chapter 37) on 25 July 2003 (Charity Registration No. 01713). It is not an Institute of a Public Character.

Palliative Care Australia (PCA)

Palliative Care Australia (PCA) is the national peak body for palliative care in Australia. Our purpose is to represent and support those working to ensure high-quality palliative care is available to all Australians who need it.

PCA works in partnership with consumers, Member Organisations, national health stakeholders, and the palliative care workforce to improve access to palliative care and promote its essential role across the health, aged care and community sectors. We advocate for timely, appropriate care for people living with a life-limiting illness, and support the workforce and specialist palliative care teams who provide care for people with more complex needs and who support and educate others.

Palliative Care Australia was established in 1998, building on the work of the Australian Association for Hospice and Palliative Care Inc., which began in 1991.

Palliative Care South Australia (PCSA)

Palliative Care South Australia (PCSA) is a leading charity and independent peak body representing palliative care providers, the community and people experiencing a serious illness, dying, death and grief, as well as those with an interest in palliative care across South Australia.

Why partner with APHC27OPCC

Partnering with the Asia Pacific Hospice Conference 2027 is a chance to shape the future of palliative care across one of the world's most diverse regions.

Delivered by Palliative Care Australia, APHC 2027 will be the largest palliative care conference in the southern hemisphere, bringing together clinical leaders, researchers, policymakers and advocates from across the Asia Pacific and Oceanic regions. This scale creates impact, accelerating shared learning, strengthening regional capability and improving care for people at the end of life.

Hosted in Adelaide, recognised for its pivotal role in shaping modern palliative care in Australia, the conference is grounded in world-leading research, education and clinical practice, with strong government, academic and community support ensuring a lasting legacy.

Sponsorship directly supports equity and access, enabling participation from low- and middle-income countries through scholarships, affordable registration and inclusive design.

For partners, APHC 2027 offers more than visibility, it is a values-aligned investment in dignity, compassion and better outcomes for people and families across the Asia Pacific region.

Program focus and structure

APHC27OPCC will focus on regional collaboration and engagement across the Asia Pacific and Oceania Region. The program is designed around the priorities shaping palliative care throughout the region, now and into the future.

Building bridges

Connecting systems, services, communities and cultures to improve care experiences

Diverse voices, shared purpose

Advancing equity, inclusion and care for underserved populations

Innovation with compassion

Supporting practical clinical and service innovation that strengthens, not replaces, human connection

Growing together

Building capability, leadership and workforce sustainability from grassroots to government

Conference streams

Delegates tailor their experience across five streams that reflect how palliative care is evolving in real-world settings:

- 1 Systems and solutions: policy, funding, service design, integration, quality improvement and scalable models of care
- 2 Communities and culture: culturally safe care, community-led approaches, Indigenous and Pacific perspectives, rural and remote, and priority populations
- 3 Clinical excellence across contexts: best practice care across settings, complex care, interdisciplinary practice and models that work in real life
- 4 Capacity and leadership: workforce development, education, wellbeing, leadership, volunteering and sustainable services
- 5 Research and innovation: evidence generation, translation into practice, measurement of what matters, implementation science and digital support that improves care

Who attends APHC27OPCC?

Uniting together

Your support of APHC27OPCC allows us to continue supporting palliative care around the world in improving the way we live and die.

“

It was incredibly insightful to see how different countries address end-of-life care challenges through culturally sensitive approaches.

– Feedback from APHC 2025

Regional reach and influence

The combined OPCC and APHC format delivers reach that is not achievable through either conference alone.

- Oceanic delegates bring deep experience from Australian, Aotearoa New Zealand and Pacific systems implementing reform across health and aged care.
- Asia Pacific delegates represent more than 30 countries across Southeast, East and South Asia, where palliative care infrastructure is expanding rapidly and seeking trusted partnerships.

For organisations, this means meaningful engagement across more than 20 countries, spanning both established systems and fast-growing markets, and the ability to build trusted relationships within complex, evolving health environments where long-term partnerships matter.

Engagement and impact

The conference is intentionally designed to create repeated, high-value touchpoints for meaningful interaction, including:

- plenary sessions bringing the full conference together
- concurrent streams enabling targeted alignment - workshops and masterclasses supporting capability building
- poster and research showcases
- meet-the-expert formats and special interest groups
- networking designed to foster purposeful conversation

Engagement is proven. OPCC 2025 in Brisbane attracted more than 1,500 delegates with 89.9% satisfaction and an NPS of 49.4. APHC 2025 in Kuching welcomed 1,152 delegates from 31 countries, with 87% satisfaction and more than half already intending to attend in 2027.

Where partners fit

Partnership opportunities are designed to align naturally with the theme and program through support of plenaries, stream content, workshops, networking experiences and practical capability-building initiatives.

This creates opportunities for organisations to demonstrate purpose-led impact while connecting with the people who influence adoption, investment and implementation across the region, including in systems where international expertise, technology and capability-building partnerships are actively sought.

APHC27OPCC offers partners rare access to a concentrated audience where policy, practice, research and industry intersect to shape what palliative care looks like next.

A platform for long-term partnership

Demand for palliative and supportive care is accelerating across the Asia Pacific. By 2030, more than 200 million people in the region will be over 65, increasing the need for integrated, sustainable approaches across aged care, community and primary health, cancer and chronic disease services, disability and complex care.

Supporting APHC27OPCC positions organisations at the centre of regional leadership, collaboration and innovation. Partnership is not about visibility alone. It is about contributing to solutions that work in real systems, while respecting the human experience at the heart of care.

We welcome conversations with organisations interested in exploring partnership approaches aligned to their objectives and values.

It's one of the best opportunities to connect with cutting-edge research and learn alongside others who share the same passion.

How to choose the right partnership

APHC27OPCC brings together around 2,000 senior leaders, clinicians, policy makers and researchers from more than 20 countries to shape the future of palliative care across Australia and the Asia Pacific.

Under the theme Stronger Together: humanity at the heart of palliative care, the conference combines system-level influence with a shared commitment to dignity, compassion and care that works in real lives. Partners gain access to decision-makers who lead services, influence procurement and drive adoption of new models and solutions.

Not sure which partnership is the right fit?

We're here to help.

Our team is happy to talk through your objectives and recommend options that align with your priorities.

Partnership guidance by sector

The following guidance outlines recommended partnership options based on common organisational objectives. All partnerships can be tailored through discussion.

Pharmaceutical organisations

Typical objectives: reputation, clinical credibility, policy and guideline influence, education

Recommended partnerships:

- Content Partner (keynote, plenary or stream sponsorship)
- Premium Partner – Option A (plenary) or Option B (educational symposium)
- National Palliative Care Awards Ceremony Partner
- Scholarship Sponsor

Why this works: Positions organisations as contributors to education and workforce development, building long-term credibility.

Medical technology and digital health organisations

Typical objectives: adoption, implementation, system integration, regional growth

Recommended partnerships:

- Premium Partner – Option B (breakfast, lunch or round table)
- Premium Partner – Option C (regional expansion package)
- Classic Partner (session hosting)
- Charging Station or Coffee Cart Partner paired with content participation

Why this works: Enables deep engagement with clinical, operational and policy leaders who influence implementation and scaling.

Aged care providers and service organisations

Typical objectives: leadership positioning, workforce sustainability, integrated models of care

Recommended partnerships:

- Premium Partner – Option B
- Classic Partner
- Scholarship Sponsor
- Welcome Reception Partner

Why this works: Enables storytelling around service models, workforce development and system integration.

Government, statutory bodies and public sector organisations

Typical objectives: policy leadership, system stewardship, reform and equity

Recommended partnerships:

- Elite Partnership
- Premium Partner – Option A or Option C
- Content Partner (plenary or stream sponsorship)
- Scholarship Sponsor with equity or workforce focus

Why this works: Ownership of program elements and alignment with reform priorities provide legitimacy and influence.

Universities and research-led institutions

Typical objectives: research translation, academic leadership, education, workforce development, profile among clinicians and policy makers

Recommended partnerships:

- Content Partner (keynote, plenary or stream sponsorship)
- Poster Partner
- Premium Partner – Option A (plenary) or Option B (educational symposium)
- Scholarship Sponsor
- Classic Partner

Why this works: Positions universities as leaders in evidence generation and translation, maintaining academic integrity.

Large national palliative care projects and initiatives

Typical objectives: system change, implementation, adoption, stakeholder alignment, national visibility

Recommended partnerships:

- Elite Partnership
- Premium Partner – Option A (plenary) or Option B (round table)
- Content Partner (plenary, stream or keynote sponsorship)
- Welcome Reception Partner

Why this works: Provides ownership of program elements and high-trust visibility where policy, practice and implementation intersect.
